Welcome!

Elizabeth Zempel
Music Administrator

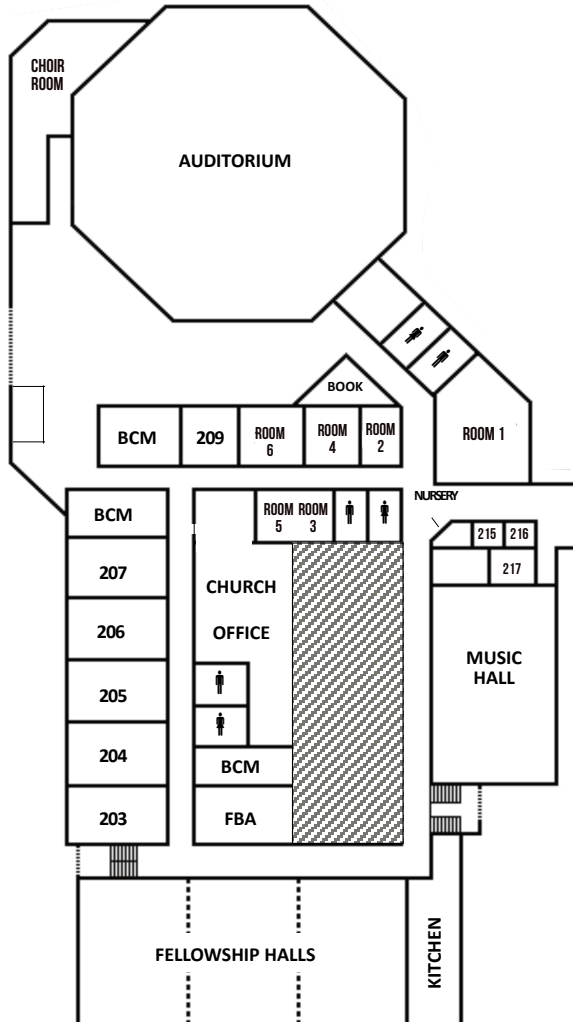

Daniel Van Gelderen, Jr.
Artistic Director

We are privileged with the opportunity to partner with parents to develop this generation of young people to their highest potential and usefulness. Students, as the other part of this important partnership, learn to take responsibility for their development as they are inspired to excellence for God's glory.

New habits are developed as students learn to listen, intake information properly, think before doing, process what they are given, and produce a lovely product. The intensity and stimulation of such a special event will make a lasting impression on our students. We also will train our students to listen, to collaborate, and to take ownership for excellence – the essence of good team work. This end goal requires solid preparation on the part of all involved and an attitude of excitement to be a part of such a wonderful cause! As we help our young students listen, focus, and process appropriately for their age, we are also enabling them to do the same with all aspects of their learning, spiritual life, and character development.
